Dr. Ganesan P. Adaikan

11th & 12th February, 2012 @ Chennai India

Message from Grand Chairman

Dr. Kamaraj and the officers of the organizing committee of the 6th international Conference on Sexology in Chennai, India, have vast experience in hosting meetings of Sexology and Sexual Medicine in the past. They have dedicated interest and devotion for research, treatment and promotion of sexual health to the professionals such as Physicians, Psychiatrists, Gynaecologists, Andrologists, Psychologists, Sociologists and NGOs and the general public at large. We can be rest assured of a feast of best organizational, social and scientific programme from the organisers. The venue, Chennai is an international city known for world-class congress and tourist attractions and is situated at the centre of Asia with direct air connection from many cities.

In line with the remarkable advances in many areas of sexuality, The Indian Association of Sexology has grown by leaps and bounds in bringing together many sexologists from different cultural background in the region to share their experiences and friendship at their annual gatherings. Let us hope for more collaborative studies and exchanges of ideas among the fraternities from within India and countries in Asia-Oceania and beyond.

I wish the organizers all the best for a great success of the 6th International Conference on Sexology taking place from 11-12 February 2012.

Message from the Chairman

It is with great pleasure, that I invite you all to the 6th Annual Conference of the Indian Association for Sexology to be held in Chennai in 2012. Healthcare providers in the present scenario, are attending not only acute and chronic ailments, but also the newer form of male & female "Sexual Dysfunction". Unfortunately though a number of andrological societies have focused their energies on reaching a consensus of approaching this ailment, it is still in its infancy and remains far from resolved.

Unlike guidelines for Diabetes, Cardiovascular Disease, Gynaecological Disorders etc., a definitive guideline for the treatment of this ailment in the Indian scenario is lacking. IAS has taken the onus of setting up a task force across India for enhancing the awareness of this silent destructive force amongst healthcare providers.

Speakers from various disciplines would be putting forth their experiences and share their wisdom on the podium. During the deliberations, the delegates would have the chance of expressing their views on wide range of topics which include; Role of Phytoandrogens in Male Sexual Health, Erection & Orgasmic Disorders, HIV & Sexual Medicine, Chronic illness & Sexual Health, Female Sexual Disorders, Gynaecological aspects of Sexual Medicine, Sexual Problems in General Medical Practice, Recent Advances in Treatment of Sexual Disorders, Sex Education, Disabilities and Sexual Health, Psychiatric Disorders & Sexual Health, Internet and Sexual Health and many other topics would be discussed in the two day congress to be held at Chennai.

As the field of Sexology is still in its infancy, your presence here will bolster our confidence and initiatives for reaching to the masses and after deliberations a consensus guideline for treating male and female sexual health disorders in the Indian scenario could be issued under the aegis of Indian Association for Sexology similar to the guidelines issued by RCOG, ISSAM and other associations.

Once again I take this opportunity of welcoming you all to the city of Chennai (India) to attend the 6th Indian Association for Sexology and grace the occasion.
